WORKERS GRAB FORD PLANT IN K. C.

2-WAY RADIO CAR BRINGS SLEUTHS

Pacific Freight Lines
Workers Approached
By Organizers

Truck traffic moved cautiously here under the eye of police officers today, as union organizers converged on Santa Ana in a move to sign up Pacific Freight Lines drivers when they were refused police permission to picket the freight line depot.

The backwash of Los Angeles strike difficulties pesisted in:

Radio Car Appears

1. Refusal of Police Chief Floyd to allow Los Angeles union men to picket the depot because of anti-picketing laws.

2. Pursuit of a Pacific truck by pickets back here from Los Angeles harbor after they had refused to allow it to unload a cargo of Treescweet citrus products.

3. Appearance of a two-way radio car, manned by Los Angeles private detectives, presumably working for the Pacific firm.

No violence was reported in any case. The Los Angeles organizers, who asked Chief Howard whether they could picket the depot, asked when they were refused whether they would be permitted to talk with the non-union drivers.

Howard told them that as permissible, so long as they were reasonable. Approximately 10 men, none of them union members so far, are employed at the freight lines here, but organizers were talking with them today.

A load of citrus products shipped from here the first part of the week via Pacific was returned this morning from Los Angeles harbor after unloading there was prevented, Manager H. L. Manker of the Treescweet company said to-day.

Duplicate Shipped

Manker said pickets followed the truck back here, but created no disturbance. Police watched the unloading, however. A duplicate order had been shipped meanwhile, Manker said, by Southern California Freight lines, a union organization.

Sheriff Logan Jackson and his chief criminal deputy, Merle Dean, today conferred with District Attorney W. F. Menton and Assistant District Attorney James L. Davis in preparation for any eventuality.

350 Men Out

The Los Angeles detectives, Jackson said, asked him for permission to transmit messages to Los Angeles through KGHX, the county police station. Jackson so far has not granted permission, but said he was investigating the request. The private detectives brought with them a letter of introduction from Police Chief James E. Davis of Los Angeles, entitling them to use the Los Angeles station.

The Pacific strikers are demanding union recognition for collective bargaining, and have been on strike in Los Angeles since Wednesday. Union sources say 350 men are out on strike, mostly in Los Angeles.

Convict Makes Sixth Escape

CANTON, Ga. (AP)—Escaping for the sixth time in 12 years, life-term S. J. Scarborough sawed his way out of the Cherokee county chain gang camp early today with eight other convicts.

The 29-year-old killer had been brought back only Thursday from Hobart, Ind., after a previous break Feb. 8.

The men used hatch-saws, files and a pick-ax to cut and bend the bars of a rear, second-story window. They lowered themselves the 15 feet to the ground with ropes made of blankets.

Several children told police the gang had made a "stake" on the Susquehanna river banks, where youngsters were burned with matches, beaten and otherwise abused.

Heiress On Wild Ride Flees Suit Of 5-Day Mate

By RELMAN MORIN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—With neither money nor luggage, and pursued by police, Mrs. Nan Pieron Brooks Macy Brill, beautiful New York heiress, made a wild, 400-mile flight from Hollywood to San Francisco today.

She ran away from her husband of five days, wealthy William H. Brill Jr., who had been hiding from her.

After a brief and stormy scene with Brill and his mother yesterday afternoon, the heiress jumped into the biggest and fastest of his four cars and roared away.

An Associated Press reporter and photographer were in the automobile with her. They expected her to stop at her hotel in Hollywood. She stopped 100 miles later.

"We'll get gas here, and then go to San Francisco," she gasped.

"You'll have to come too. I'm going to have hysterics now."

She said Brill's mother had told her that if she took the car, officers would arrest her for having stolen it.

It was a wild day and a strange night.

Five days ago, the eastern social figure escaped to Yuma, Ariz., with Brill, her second husband, after a two-day honeymoon which she returned to Hollywood. He left her, she said, to go to his mother's apartment house and get his clothes.

Until yesterday, that was the last time she saw him.

"He didn't give me any explanation. He just left. So I reported him to the police as missing. They found him, all right."

Yesterday, her patience ended.

She stormed the gates of the $600,000 penthouse where her young husband, she said, had been hiding.

"It's my husband and I want him. I've been awake three nights wanting him, and now I'm going

GERMAN SHIP PICK SITE TO SINK WATER

Two Steamers Rushing To Aid of Stricken Atlantic Vessel

Tentative Spot Chosen Near Villa Park On Santiago Creek

Tentative site for the newly reported water sinking works on the Santiago creek was selected today by a special committee named yesterday by directors of the Orange County Water district.

The most likely of the several sites inspected was found to be one near Villa Park on the creek at the foot of Walnut street. If this location is approved by the water board, a 250-foot pit with an opening three by four feet will be sunk.

To Meet Again

Directors C. A. Palmer, William Mauerhan and William Wallop, together with Frank Collins, manager of the Consolidated Orange Growers association and Marion Flippin, rancher, inspected the site this morning.

The coast guard, which received the same information as Radio Marine, said it also was advised that the ship was taking water through her plates.

Radio Marine said the steamer Colombie, about 200 miles away, and the British steamer Tamaroa, 60 miles away, had responded to the SOS of the distressed ship.

The coast guard, which received the same information as Radio

Marine, said it also was advised that the ship was taking water through her plates.

Radio Marine Corporation reported at 7:45 a.m. that the Borkum was still sending distress signals because its receiving radio equipment was out of order and the operator had no way of knowing his signals were being picked up.

PUPILS ABUSED BY BOYS' GANG

MARIETTA, Pa. (AP)—Justice of the Peace Richard Daveler and school officials today began questioning school children about complaints that they were tortured and abused by an organized gang of boys between 11 and 15 years old.

Daveler said he was investigating a beating given Grant Snyder, 12, who was removed to a Columbia hospital, and charges made by Mrs. Daniel Strohm that she had rescued her young son from a gang.

Several children told police the gang had made a "stake" on the Susquehanna river banks, where youngsters were burned with matches, beaten and otherwise abused.

Driver and Horse Hurt in Collision

Fred A. Miller, Wilmington, told sheriff's officers his car collided with a horse yesterday afternoon on Lincoln avenue, injuring both the driver and the horse.

Miller incurred a cut hand, and the horse, a mouse colored mare belonging to George Costa of Cypress, was destroyed, according to Humane Officer Harold Pickering's report.

F. D. R. PRICE POLICY IS ATTACKED

Wheeler Takes Issue With President On Copper Upswing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.) took issue today with President Roosevelt's contention that the price of copper, along with other durable goods, was too high.

Wheeler said the President's policy announced yesterday of curtailing government purchases in the durable industries would throw American miners out of work and force them to compete with African slave labor and Mexican peons.

Mr. Roosevelt told his press conference that such durable goods as steel and copper were far too high and that government buying should be directed toward consumer goods.

Reversal of Policy

This administration view, a reversal of previous policy, was the latest administration answer to the possible dangers in business recovery.

The President, said Wheeler, bitter opponent of the Roosevelt court reorganization bill, was wrong in saying American mines could produce profitably at 8 or 9 cents a pound.

"I regret to see the President issue a statement that the price of copper is too high," Wheeler said. "I am sure the mines of Montana cannot pay the present wage scales and make any money on 8 or 9 cent copper."

Fiscal experts explained the government might cut the hazard of too rapid upswing of prices in the durable goods industries by reducing its purchases of such goods as steel and copper. Instead, the money would be spent on projects intended to increase the demand for consumers' goods.

Means Cutting Wages

"The price of copper can be reduced by cutting wages of miners to a scale where they still will have to compete with the slave labor of Africa and the peons of Mexico. I don't want to see that and it will be impossible for our miners to keep even a half decent standard of living with the price of copper reduced to any appreciable extent."

Fiscal experts explained the government might cut the hazard of too rapid upswing of prices in the durable goods industries by reducing its purchases of such goods as steel and copper. Instead, the money would be spent on projects intended to increase the demand for consumers' goods.

Validity Undetermined As Land Purchase Ends Lawsuit

What had promised to be the first court test in California of the validity of the Torrens system of land title registration blew up in court today.

It was announced that J. Fred Sidebottom, county recorder, had purchased at full price five-acre orange grove from John G. and Lona Lohr, against whom Sidebottom, as agent for his mother, Mrs. Eliza Sidebottom, had a deficiency judgment.

Involving the controversy, which both sides had asked the superior court to settle was the question of whether claims recorded in the usual way are effective against the title of land registered under the Torrens system.

Both on Record

Mrs. Lohr had filed a homestead exemption claim on the five-acre ranch near Anaheim in the official records of the county. Mrs. Sidebottom's deficiency judgment also was on the official records.

But title to the Lohr ranch was recorded under the separate Torrens system, in which a certificate is issued by the recorder, acting officially as a registrar, and the title is guaranteed by a state validity declaration.

A valid homestead declaration would have protected the ranch against deficiency judgments, at least to the extent of $5000.

Make Purchase

Sidebottom today revealed that his mother, acting through him, had purchased the ranch for $15,000, arranging to dismiss the action based on the deficiency judgment.

He will move to a home on the ranch within a few weeks.

The county recorder, his wife, and his parents, originally owned the ranch in question, selling it to Mr. and Mrs. Lohr several years ago.

Aside from personal interest in the property, the question was one of intense interest to Sidebottom as recorder, inasmuch as a court verdict could have brought an important decision on the validity of Torrens title.

By Dog After Youth Is Bitten

That news story about the man biting the dog didn't quite happen, but sheriff's officers ran into a report almost as good today.

A service station man at Huntington Beach boulevard and Wintersburg road called the sheriff's office yesterday afternoon.

"A Mexican boy named Henry Ortiz was bitten by a dog," he said. "We want the poundmaster to take care of the dog."

Henry's condition was not reported.

Tense Moment in WPA Strike

Rapidly spreading WPA strikes in the San Francisco bay area developed many tense moments and occasionally police clashed with pickets. Scenes like the one above where a police officer is shaking his switch was, however, and there were no arrests. This picture was taken in front of WPA headquarters in Oakland. OFFICIALS OF FIRM FLYING TO SCENE

Sit-Downers Say Move Caused By Seniority Rule Violation

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Six Ford executives rode a special plane today from Chicago to the scene of the first sit-down strike directed at a Ford unit while the strikers' 18-man executive committee prepared for a conference on the dispute.

Tentative plans were made for the executives to meet the strikers' representatives at a downtown hotel.

Tight lipped pickets surrounded the grounds of the plant whose switch gates were welded shut by the strikers after the tie-up began.

LOCAL SUGAR BEET CROP IS SHORT

Curtailed Season For Holly Plant Here Is Predicted

Orange county's sugar beet crop will be the shortest in history this coming season. This means that the Holly Sugar company will have the shortest run in many years.

These facts were brought out at a meeting of the Garden Grove and Tustin farm centers last night in the Talbert schoolhouse.

Unusual Season

Vernon Heil, director of the Orange County Production Credit association and farm bureau director, said that the sugar beet factory will have the shortest crop in history this year. However, he pointed out that this is a most unusual season, being the first time in many years that growers have had conditions advantageous to all types of soil capable of producing sugar beets.

C. W. Stoker, field representative of the sugar factory, confirmed the fact that the factory will have the shortest crop in its history. He emphasized to growers that if sugar beets are planted as late as from April 15 to May they will get an excellent crop returning both yield and sugar content of the beets.

Rotation Urged

Heil said beets and lima beans must be rotated on land for the good of the soil, and that if growers do not put in sugar beets, there will come a time when they will have no factory at which to dispose of their beets.

William M. Teasdale, assistant general manager of the California Lima Bean Growers association, discussed marketing and price problems as they relate to the growers. Lester Barry and R. D. Flaherty discussed compensation insurance.

MORE ABOUT HEIRESS

Brill was in the big, yellow automobile in the garage. She ran to him. They fell into each other's arms, and there was a long embrace. He told her, she said, that he was then on his way to her.

At that moment, Mrs. Mary Brill appeared and cried:

"Nan, what is all this?"

An Angry Scene

A bitter, angry scene ensued, in which the heiress accused the mother of keeping Brill from her, and the mother replied that Nan had engineered "all publicity on this."

Brill, when his mother came in view, darted up the back stairs to his penthouse again. His pretty wife called after him:

"You know I'm a wife in more than name only. I don't want your car. I can buy a dozen like it. And I don't want your mother, either. I can buy a dozen like her, too."

Then she was informed by newspapermen that an attorney, Albert Kidder, jr., had filed suit for annulment of the marriage on behalf of young Brill in Ventura yesterday afternoon.

And The Ride Begins

"They'll have to catch me first to serve the papers," Nan said. "They can't do this to me."

Then the ride began.

Between them, the heiress, reporter and cameraman were unable to pool 80 cents in cash. A gasoline credit card took care of the fuel.

"We can eat once, and that's all," Nan said.

At one roadside sandwich stand, she tried to get some credit. She showed three diamond rings to prove her solvency.

"What's Tiffany's?"

"My credit is good at Tiffany's," she told George A. Swartz, the proprietor, "and you won't even trust me for a sandwich."

"What's Tiffany's?" Swartz asked, "and who runs the joint?"

It grew cold as night fell. She was wearing a light tailored suit. But she found in the rumble seat a suit belonging to her husband, and she slipped that on over her own. Then she donned dark glasses.

"Now, if they stop us, they won't know me anyway," she said.

Once, stopping for fuel, she saw a motorcycle officer approaching. Quickly, she grabbed a gasoline can and funnel and began filling the tank herself.

To Fight Annulment

"If he's looking for an heiress, he won't expect to find one doing this," she whispered.

As the miles rolled by, she went over and over her plans.

"I'm going to fight that annulment," she said, "and then I'm going to sue for alienation of affections. He's my husband and he's going to stay that way. But first I'm going to hide out for a while so they can't serve me. That will give me time to complete my plans."

Suddenly, she leaned her head back and began to cry.

"And I thought I was going to settle down like other married people," she said.

Pioneer Elderberry Tree Lives Despite Axe

Undaunted by encroachment of brick walls, concrete sidewalks, and repeated attacks with an axe, a lone elderberry tree today maintained undiminished a 37-year fight to return the county courthouse square to the wooded park that it was in the 19th century.

As Gardner George Benedict whacked away yesterday at four feet of new shoots the ancient roots had sent forth in recent months, he recalled that he has been cutting back the tree several times a year for as long as he can remember.

County Treasurer Terry Stevenson, one of Santa Ana's old timers, remembers that when he was a boy the courthouse square was owned by W. H. Spurgeon and used as a public park.

Pepper and elderberry trees that filled the block were cut out when the courthouse was built in 1900.

Yet this one old tree refuses to give up. Its roots are jammed against the concrete side of a dilapidated tank that feeds the courthouse furnace.

The courthouse foundation, a street, and a sidewalk also cut off its access to normal amounts of soil.

Still it won't give up. But if he pointed out that this is a most unusual season, being the first time in many years that growers have had conditions advantageous to all types of soil capable of producing sugar beets.

Stevenson wanted it to grow—

C. W. Stoker, field representative of the sugar factory, confirmed the fact that the factory will have the shortest crop in its history.

DON SINGERS WILL GO TO SAN DIEGO

About Folks

News of Your Family and Friends Is Important. The Journal Welcomes it. Telephone 3590.

Under the direction of Miss Myrtle A. Martin, members of the Santa Ana Junior college music department travel to San Diego Monday to give a concert at the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn., from an operation performed last Monday.

Ross H. Boyd, Jr., of 210 South Broadway is spending the weekend in Fresno.

Miss Mary Sailey of Santa Ana drove to Bakersfield to spend the weekend.

Both the men and women's choruses will sing for a special assembly at the Southland college. Several members of the Jaycees executive board will accompany the singers.

Besides Miss Martin, Alan A. Revill will direct several numbers.

Monday's trip will be the "big trip" of the semester for the college music department. In the near future work will be started on the operetta, "Naughty Marietta" to be given in May.

In Laguna Beach, the group will give a concert at the high school. Reuben Krutz, Lynwood Young, Horace Evans and Marijane Belcher will sing solos.

Executive board members making the trip are Neil McDonald, president; LaVonne Franson, social chairman; Kenneth Nissley, treasurer, and Tay Riggs, Delano editor.

Those in the choruses making the trip are George Bassett, Richie Bassett, Gordon Bishop, John Black, Josh Brady, William Conrad, Robert Cunningham, John Daughenbaugh, Walker Davis, Burns Drake, Fred Erdhaus, Horace Evans, Robert Gilman, Franklin Guthrie, Inez Granados, James Haarstad, John Harbour, Carl Hawkins, Daniel Jones, Joe Kobayashi, Reuben Krutz, Rand Lewis, Wilbur Marsters, Vic Rowland, Onie Sanders, William Schlosser, Fred Sledaker, Dick Tauber, Kenneth Te Trotenhuis.

DON LEADER OFF FOR CONCLAVE

John Ramirez, president of the Santa Ana Junior college chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, national jaycee honor society, will leave tomorrow for Little Rock, Ark., where he will represent the local junior college at the national convention.

Ramirez was selected by the Alpha Beta chapter to represent the college at the three-day conclave. The meet starts Wednesday and concludes April 9.

The competition will be attended by delegates from junior colleges from all parts of the country. Elaborate preparations have been made for the visitors, according to the program received here.

Business meetings, teas, tours of the city, and other entertainment features are in store for the delegates.

Ramirez has not only been active in Phi Theta Kappa work as president, but is a member of four other honor societies. They are Beta Gamma, extra-curricular society of which he is president; American Association of Engineers, for which he has held executive office, and Alpha Mu Gamma, foreign language society. He is also president of the latter society. He was Don of the Fiesta last year, as well as being a member of Los Gachos, men's service club.

Following the ceremonies, members of the post joined with the auxiliary in a social event which included serving of refreshments.

Honored guests included L. G. Taggart, department of California junior vice commander, from Bakersfield, and Mrs. Taggart; Wesley Davis, commander of the 21st district; Dan C. Russell, commander of Fullerton post; S. L. Lewis, commander of Orange post, and R. C. Parker, department judge advocate, department of Louisiana.

Printed programs instructed as to emotions in their second group, called a "Kinetic Molpa," which refers to the ancient art form including rhythmic movement, poetry, instrumental music, and drama. Their instructions were not necessary, however, for every one in the well-filled house could see perfectly the implications of each movement, be it strike, dynamic contrasts, resilience, unfolding and folding, surge . . .

Moreover, the significance which they had discovered in the flowing interpretations of the "Molpa" was injected into their other groups based on less abstract themes.

Dons Qualify for State Playoff In Rugby

TROJAN CLUB IS HELD TO 0-0 DRAW

Butterworth to Arrange Sixth Game Tuesday; S. B. Plays Oakland

Unbeaten, but twice-tied, Santa Ana Jaysee's powerful rugby team today awaited the outcome of a Santa Barbara-Oakland match to challenge the survivor to a state playoff game. The Don fifteen fought the U. S. C. university club to a 0-0 draw here last night.

Coach Ernest Butterworth has arranged for Santa Ana to meet another Los Angeles squad at the Municipal bowl next Tuesday night.

Five times during last night's game the defensive work of Sam McCann, Ed Stanley and Bob Pannell staved off Trojan attacks on the goal-line. Fast work by Forward Bill Semmacher prevented Paul Herbert, brother of the Don's Joe Herbert, from scoring on an attempted 15-yard drop kick late in the final period. Herbert's kick was blocked after the ball had been put in a scrum on the 1-yard line.

Joe Herbert of the Dons put on a fine exhibition of running and kicking, and narrowly missed a 40-yard drop kick that would have put the Jaysee boys ahead. Bill Howard, ex-Trojan quarterback, missed several penalty kicks in the last period. Particularly effective were Capt. Fred Pinkston, Bill Twist, Joe Kotar, Russell Roquet, Al Tinten, Dick Tauber, Fred Wagner and Semmacher on the forward scrum of the Dons. Ball-hawking Danny Boyd, scrum half, and Howard Rash, stand-off, and Pannell, Fred Lentz, Stanley, Herbert and McCann kept the Dons in the thick of the fight.

Lineups:

Santa Ana (0)	Pos. (0)	Univ. Club
Pinkston (c.)	Front Row	James
Howard	Front Row	McKellar
Stanley	Front Row	Longley
Rash	Second Row	Clark
Lentz	Second Row	Henderson
Howard	Second Row	Wright
Boyd	Breakaway	Rorison
McCann	Breakaway	Kellogg
McCann	Fullback

STARS SLATE SAN BERDOO

Santa Ana's Stars will swing into their nightfall training grind at San Bernardino next Thursday night. Manager Ray (Doc) Smith today completed his spring exhibition schedule, and at the same time cut his roster to 12 men.

Those retained are Bob Mott, Charles Comiskey, George Conway, Herb Bowe, Ira DeBusk and LeRoy Levens, of the newcomers, and Jim Coates, Ben Koral, George Preble, Tom Young, Clarence (Nan) Cots and Manager Smith, veterans.

Santa Ana's exhibition schedule: April 8—San Bernardino there. April 13—Colton there. April 16—Ontario there. April 20—Open. April 23—Riverside here. April 27—Colton here. April 30—Ontario here. May 4—Riverside there. May 6—San Bernardino here.

Martin Replaces Steinke Monday

Ironing out a problem that for a time seriously threatened the three-fall wrestling match between King Kox and Rudy Strongberg, Promoter Sam Sampson announced today "Bull" Martin, wrestling-referee from the South, would handle the bout.

Martin also will replace Hans Steinke in the three fall secondary featuring meeting the Hasickel Indian braves, Tiny Roebuck, in the Orange County Athletic club ring Monday night.

Award Technical Knockout to Lee

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—A technical knockout victory over Babe Marino, San Francisco, was held today by Glenn Lee of Nebraska.

Referee George Blake stopped the fight last night midway in the eighth round. Marino appeared to be out on his feet, absorbing a merciless beating and unable to offer a defense. Lee weighed 150 pounds, his opponent one-half a pound less.

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Opening of the 35th Pacific Coast league baseball season prompts this department to go into its annual gazing act, the idea being to pick how the teams will finish the race.

No guarantees are attached to these selections. Everyone is entitled to his own opinion. Here's the way we see the finish:

1—Missions.

2—San Diego.

3—Los Angeles.

4—Sacramento.

5—Seattle.

6—San Francisco.

7—Portland.

8—Oakland.

To refresh the memory it should be recorded here that three of the four clubs making up the first division last year are reported in the lower bracket. Portland, 1936 champion, gets no better than seventh place in our seasonal future book. Oakland is bumped into last position although runner-up last year. Seattle drops to fifth ranking from fourth of 1936, and San Diego moves up from third to second.

Explanations are in order.

Missions Pack Punch

The Missions shape up as a seasoned, well-balanced outfit in all departments. Disregard training camp games in which Willie Kamm's men seemed to be leading with their chins. MARTIN TO RE-ENACT FLIGHT TO CATALINA IN CLIPPER SHIP

HARBOR WEEK FIESTA IS PLANNED

Anniversary of Epochal Flight To Be Noted At Newport-Balboa

NEWPORT-BALBOA — Glenn L. Martin, famous builder of "clipper ships" will re-enact his epoch flight from Newport to Catalina Island May 10 in one of his latest planes, a huge clipper built for Pan-American airways. Harry Welch, chamber of commerce secretary, announced yesterday.

The event will observe the 25th anniversary of the first flight when Martin flew from Newport to Catalina, thence to San Pedro and returned to the county harbor.

Officials from coast communities will be invited to take part in the flight, it has been decided. The ceremony will be a part of the first anniversary of the opening of the $2,000,000 county harbor at Newport-Balboa, which is slated for May 15.

Newport and Avalon postoffices will issue special cachets for all mail on May 10, and an effort will be made to carry mail on the huge clipper on that day. Welch announced. An escort of Navy planes is being sought for the event, he added.

Numerous celebrations are being planned for the first anniversary of the harbor opening, which officially has been designated "Harbor Week." During that week members of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce and Service club will visit the Avalon Rotary club as a goodwill gesture, it was announced.

CLUB AT MESA HAS ELECTION

COSTA MESA — Mrs. N. O. Meliott was elected to head the Friday Afternoon club for the coming year at their regular meeting Friday, supplanting Mrs. J. O. Tallman, who has served for the past year.

She will be supported by Mrs. Harry Thayer, first vice president; Mrs. C. A. Custer, second vice president; Mrs. Frank Wells, secretary; Mrs. George Ragan, treasurer, and Miss Alice Plumer, auditor. Three new directors were also elected to the board: Mrs. J. O. Tallman, Mrs. Merwin J. Fickas and Mrs. C. Bixler, who will succeed Mrs. Alex Olsen, Mrs. C. A. Custer and Mrs. John F. Webster.

Other business included an announcement that Miss Alice Plumer's circle will meet for luncheon at the home of Mrs. Merwin J. Fickas, next Wednesday; that the garden section will meet for a covered-dish luncheon and discussion of plans next Friday at 11 a.m. and that members of Mrs. C. G. Huston's circle will serve dinner to the Coast association meeting, April 20.

Plans were made for the annual anniversary dinner, slated for April 16, which will be held in the Woman's clubhouse with some other organization being engaged to serve the meal. Mrs. Daughenbaugh and Mrs. Thayer were appointed as the committee in charge.

At the close of the meeting, tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. George Healey and Mrs. George Merrick.

Tustin Home Is Scene of Party

TUSTIN — Mrs. Orlie Householder and Mrs. William Cook were co-hostesses Thursday evening when they entertained ten couples in the Householder home.

Using April fool as the theme, the guests were invited to a party at the Cook home, where they found an April fool sign on the door and were sent on to Householder.

During the evening the guests played auction bridge and circulation prizes were awarded. The final high score prizes went to Mrs. Ernest Harwood and Albert Thomas.

Guests were Mesdames and Messrs. Robert Korff, Vincent Humiston, Ernest Harwood, George Gaylord, Worth Alexander, Earl Sharpless, Ernest Byrne and Albert Thomas.

Laguna Bowlers Place in Tourney

LAGUNA BEACH — Competing with representatives of 16 lawn bowling clubs of the California Lawn Bowling Association, the Laguna team recently won second prize in a field of 78 players at Redlands.

The Laguna team was composed of Fred Wiedenkamp, Howard Heisler, and Andrew Hall, with a check of $11.90 as prize money going into the club's treasury.

Archeologist Returns to Mesa

COSTA MESA — W. B. Murnberger, local archeologist, who has been engaged in research work on the William Randolph Hearst estate in Monterey county, returned to his home here Wednesday after an absence of five months.

MAN of the WEEK

Step right up and meet Orange county's Man of the Week. He's been selected to appear here because of his interest in his community and because friends claim he's a real fellow. Here he is:

HARRY WELSH

This handsome gentleman is Harry Welsh, active Fullerton civic worker.

Harry is one of those unfortunate people who goes to work on civic projects and gets things done. His ability to handle everything from dedications to flag-raisings is soon recognized, and his time almost entirely taken up by boosting the chamber of commerce and raising funds for everything that comes along.

When not raising flags and dedicating things, Welsh is head man for the Edison company in Fullerton. He's an enthusiastic Kiwanian, too, and dinner meetings for his varied activities keep him away from home about every

He still has time, however, to stop and chat about anything of interest. He's tied up with his community, doesn't mind going to work on anything suggested and, in spite of his protests to the contrary, is one of Fullerton's most valued citizens.

Which is enough of a tribute for anyone:

ALONG ORANGE COUNTY'S WATER FRONT

For the second week-end in succession, yachtsmen, swimmers, fishermen and other beachgoers are going to enjoy good weather. Unless the experts have stumbled again, which doesn't look likely.

Wonderful sailing weather has been predicted. Vagrant breezes should blow, unless they change over to galloping gales. Everyone's getting tired of weather of any sort, and it's about time for a little spring.

Because what good are nice, shiny boats, when it's raining? Or nice, shiny fishpoles and new bathing suits, for that matter?

Now for that hardworking individual, Harbormaster Tommy Bouchey.

Since Collegiate week, Tommy's been collecting a number of small articles, picked up here and there by exuberant celebrants.

It's a fair-to-middlin' high evening tide for croaker fishermen. Water'll be 3.4 at 5:47 p.m., and you know how fish like to bite just as the sun's going down! Another high at 2:45 a.m., which isn't very interesting. Lows at 10:44 a.m. and 10:41 p.m., the latter a high low... Complicated, but the water'll reach the 2.6 mark and that's all.

We were just about to pen a sad sailor story about the fishing situation when Darrel King, live-bait boat czar, reported, all excited-like.

This was written last night, and at that time Darrel was jumping up and down and clapping his hands. Small bait finally has arrived, he said, and the water's fairly swarming with barracuda. That's where the early runs always start, and it looks like our year of fun has finally begun.

Up to now, horse sardines have furnished bait for boat fishermen, and the operators are about hysterical to discover that the smaller fish have arrived to lure the big ones to the top. It won't be long!

And as Tommy hasn't any streetcar, he's wondering what to do with the blinder.

By the way, have you heard from the tax assessor yet? His deputy was down along the waterfront recently checking up on boat appraisals.

That 36-foot water taxi Steve Smith has had up for sale—He's wondering if he should not hike the price. That is, after the way it performed last Saturday night.

It was Smith Bros. Scout that was commanded by the Marbomaster when flares at sea were reported by a Corona del Mar resident. Just some small boat caught in the blow was the guess.

However, when they got outside they discovered it was a 60-footer, motor broken down and dragging its anchor within its own length of a couple of half-submerged reefs.

There was no time to go back after a regular tugboat. Boyd had a bunch of sales to report this week. He handled the deal for Walton Hubbard company for the sale of "Bronco," 28-foot Gar Wood to James D. McLean of San Diego.

Charlie Cotton was the previous owner. He now has a 33-foot sport fisher being built for him at the South Coast Yacht.

"Ramita," 28-foot Chris craft, once owned by McLean, now flies the flag of Harold W. Herlehy, Los Angeles decorator and period furniture dealer.

D. F. Lane, Los Angeles auto dealer, has purchased the 26-foot cruiser "Clara B. Lydia."

Sale of the "Wasp," 20-foot Chris craft, also was reported but the new owner's name had not been fine.

Boat sales are a sign of the times. New boats are the boats mainly being bought and sold this season. Owners no longer are the ones putting craft on the market. That is, except in the case of owners here. A tip if electrolosis bothers you. Meaning your power boat, of course. J. B. McNally guards the propeller of his Dundee by

ORANGE AID PRESIDENT IS NAMED

ORANGE — Alfred Higgins was re-elected president of the Orange Community Welfare Board Friday afternoon in the American Legion hall.

Other officers, all of whom were re-elected include Dr. J. E. Riley, first vice president; Mrs. Dolores Goodwin, second vice president; Mrs. Parker Robertson, treasurer; Miss Maude Sisson, recording secretary; Mrs. Clara Haines, executive secretary; directors, C. H. Robinson, C. W. Coffey and Mrs. Fred Alden.

Mrs. Clara Haines, executive secretary, gave her annual report in which she stated that 713 persons were given some form of aid during the year ending March 31. She said that 305 transients had been given food bags.

She thanked the Woman's club, the American Legion auxiliary, and the Mothers' club of that organization, the E. T. C. club and the P. E. O. Sisterhood for substantial help and donations. Girl Scouts, Girl Reserves and public school teachers and pupils also have aided the welfare work, she added.

Part-time employment was given 183 persons, and 12 given permanent employment. She closed by making an appeal for men's clothing and shoes, needed at this time.

300 At Tustin K. P. Meeting

TUSTIN — Three hundred Knights of Pythias and guests attended a special meeting held in Tustin K. of P. hall Tuesday evening.

The program, planned by George Dearborn, consisted of several numbers by the high school's girls and boys. Glee clubs conducted by Miss Mize, an accordion solo by Annie May Hawkins and a duet by Virginia Winters and Wild Bill Winters. Miss Marguerite Lobo and Tom Forster, San Juan Capistrano, sang several Spanish numbers.

Pastors to Attend Parley

ORANGE — The Rev. A. C. Bode, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, and the Rev. Kenneth Ahl, assistant pastor, will spend April 6-8 attending the Sierra Conference to be held at Escondido.

The local church is affiliated with this conference, Rev. Ahl announced.

ers trading for bigger and better boats.

So says Charles A. Beecher of Beecher's Boat Service over on the Coast highway at Newport boulevard. He made 35 sales last season, but has not made one so far this year, he said. The answer being that no owner at his yard has asked Beecher this season to see what he can get for that tub that's been tied up at the slip all winter. They're not selling this season, thank you, they're salling.

In other words, them as has boats are keeping them, and as hasn't pretty near have to go to builder or listing brokers to find one for sale.

Beecher has been in business on the bay two years only and in that brief time has doubled his frontage in addition to putting up another large workshop and storage.

"First saw this bay," he said, "when sandbars stuck up out of the water like old shoes, and I could see then what the development must be. I had seen what sandbars had done down Florida way while I was there with a construction company."

"But when I started this boat yard, plenty of pessimists gathered around to advise me to wait and see what was going to happen. Told them the only way to get things to happen was to make them happen."

"And," he concluded, "that's been the way of it. This place will be full all winter. Have to increase the frontage and number of slips to care for the busy season."

There's an amazingly amount of activity on the north shore of the bay. What with new boat landings and anchorage basins under construction, the Drainage Construction company laying the main of the new $350,000 Newport Harbor district sewer system, the Irvine company laying out its Bay Shore tract, Griffith construction finishing the precasting of concrete forms for the Balboa $195,000 bulkhead, the raising of a nifty neon sign to nearing completion, and—well, all in all, there appears to be a $1,000,000 worth of work going on right there."

Very few visitors to the harbor during the past lousy weather, although Baron Long's "Norah," 108-foot Diesel cruiser, came in during the week. Also "Carrie B." 45-footer, "Ruby J." 55-foot "Samona," formerly owned by Willits J. Hole and now property of Craig Shipbuilding company.

Skimmers, stars, kayaks and about everything that'd float on the bay yesterday afternoon. Nice winds in spite of small craft warnings outside. Two more rays of sunshine and summer'll be with us.

'KING AND CHORUS GIRL' AT BROADWAY THEATER SUNDAY

FOREIGN STAR TAKES LEAD IN FILM

Gravet Makes His U. S. Debut; Joan Blondell Plays Opposite

Fernand Gravet, a new film star, handsome, talented and likeable, comes to the Broadway theater screen tomorrow in his first American picture, "The King and the Chorus Girl," with Joan Blondell handling the chorus girl portrayal and the Continental artist in the role of the ex-king.

The Claire Trevor-Michael Whalen co-starring thriller, "Time Out for Romance," will screen on the same program.

The king and girl story is a humorous romance of a playboy of wealth and a crown who loses both and resorts to entertainment for his livelihood. He meets Miss Blondell, an American girl of high spirits and an impudent manner, who cares not a whit for royalty, and falls in love with her. But the greater her disdain of her royal suitor, the more impetuous does his high-pressure courtship become.

Humorous complications follow, aided by Edward Everett Horton, Mary Nash, Alan Mowbray, Jane Wyman, Luis Alberni and others.

Music and dancing have their share of the entertainment offering. The dancing takes place during a scene in Paris' famous Folies Bergere and during the revealing of the intricacies of the "can-can." Kenny Baker, of radio fame, contributes some of his famous crooning.

"Time Out for Romance," a story of a runaway bride, heiress to millions, and a highway adventurer, is an exciting, funny tale that has Claire Trevor and Michael Whalen co-starred.

Miss Trevor jilts her wealth-seeking fiance and takes to the road, a means of dodging her pursuing mother and the police. Unable to get a lift, she feigns collapse when she sights an approaching caravan of cars. Driver Whalen gives her a lift at the risk of his job and here the trouble sets in.

Joan Davis, Bennie Bartlett and Edward Fowley have the leading supporting roles.

Townsend News, Views

By WALTER R. ROBB

(Opinions and comment expressed in this column are not necessarily those of The Journal—Editor's note.)

The Rev. Rex Barr of Long Beach and Townsend district manager of the 18th congressional district will address the Townsend meeting being held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in Townsend theater, 218 East Fourth street. The Rev. Mr. Barr is well and favorably known by the Orange county Town sendites. The public is invited.

W. R. ROBB Publicity Chairman

man F. E. Moll wrote the writer in care of The Journal some particulars concerning last night's meeting held by Santa Ana Club No. 11, but some did not get into the hands of the writer in time to publish his requests. Sorry Mr. Moll, but the writer requests that hereafter you and all others who want this column to feature their club happenings write to Walter R. Robb, Santa Ana, Lock Box 441, to insure speedier reception of your mail.

Mrs. Carrie Ferrin, Garden Grove club member who is a recent subscriber to The Journal, writes as follows:

"Dear sir: I want to say I enjoy your column very much every time I get the paper. I think your column very interesting. It is fine to hear what is going on in other clubs and to hear of the interest in our movement elsewhere. In my opinion the Townsend news in The Journal is worth the price of the paper. Keep it up as you have been doing a lot to let the world know that we are moving on to victory. Yours for the Townsend plan.

"(Signed) Mrs. Carrie Ferrin, Garden Grove."

Rachel M. Gatzlaff, publicity chairman of the Tustin club, writes this column asking the pot-luck dinner which the club is giving at 6 o'clock Monday evening be publicized. She says the affair will be staged in the social hall of the Presbyterian church on West Main street and that the public is invited to bring their own table service and a covered dish and join in the good time. At 7:30, following the dinner, there will be a business session and the Rev. John Budlong of Santa Ana will address the gathering on "Communism and Fascism." She says the club has made arrangements for a booth in the Townsend bazaar to be held in the Santa Ana Townsend hall on May 28 and 29.

New Film Hit for Broadway

Three 'Gay Dogs' of the Sea

Above are pictured Chester Morris, Dolores Del Rio and Richard Dix, stars of "Devil's Playground" which opens Sunday at Walker's theater for an engagement of three days.

'ESPIONAGE' IS HEPBURN FILM DUE THURSDAY ENDS TONIGHT

Mingling the sort of intrigue that is making headlines in the newspapers with romance and humor that also have their place in the news, the new screen fare to be offered at the Broadway theater Thursday is titled "Espionage." The picture will share half of a double feature program with the Jean Arthur-Charles Boyer co-starring film "History Is Made at Night."

With Edmund Lowe and Madge Evans in the leading roles, "Espionage" is the story of two American newspaper workers both assigned to trace a millionaire munitions magnate at a time when his movements are of vital importance to the world. Neither of them is aware that the other is a reporter for a rival paper.

Most of the action is placed aboard an express out of Paris. There are situations of acute peril and others of rich humor. Paul Lukas, Ketti Gallian, Skeets Gallagher and Mitchell Lewis head the supporting cast.

The Boyer-Arthur flicker, "History Is Made at Night," is a fast-paced romance with Boyer in a totally new type of role as Paul Dumond, dashing man about town and the most popular head writer on the Continent, while Jean Arthur is seen as a New York mannequin. They meet in Paris under thrilling circumstances, and become involved in a gay romance that carries them from France to America against a series of adventures. Lee Carrillo and Coline Clive are featured in the supporting cast, which includes Ivan Lebedeff, George Meeker and others.

Extend Deadline On 5 Ship Lines

WASHINGTON. (AP)—President Roosevelt Friday signed a bill authorizing the maritime commission to extend the private management of five government-owned steamship lines beyond the deadline originally set by the 1936 merchant marine act.

Operation of the lines by private management was ordered discontinued in favor of a charter system by June 29, 1937, under the merchant marine act. The new bill permitted the commission to continue the existing arrangement as long as "advantageous" terminating it "as soon as practicable" after Dec. 31.

The companies involved are the America-Pioneer Lines, the America-France Line, American Hampton Roads Line-Yankee Line, the Oriole Line and American Republics Lines.

OAKLAND. (AP)—The vital organs of 3-year-old Margaret House were sent to a laboratory for analysis after autopsy surgeons said she did not die of poisoning from a colored Easter egg, first indicated as a death cause.

THREE STARS IN FILM AT WALKER'S

With Richard Dix, Dolores Del Rio and Chester Morris heading the cast, "Devil's Playground" comes to Walker's theater Sunday for an engagement of three days. The second feature on the bill is "Mind Your Own Business," with Charlie Ruggles and Alice Brady in the starring roles.

"Devil's Playground" concerns three sea-going sailors in the submarine division of the fleet, and a dance hall girl who marries one of them for convenience. Dix is the sailor who marries the girl, and Morris is the playboy of the fleet who makes merry with Dix's wife while Dix is away on duty.

On his return Dix learns what has taken place and when his pal goes down with a submarine that fails to come back up, it devolves upon Dix to attempt the rescue. But he refuses, and the subsequent happenings provide the climax. The story is not all draper, however. Morris and Dix furnishing plenty of comedy that such happy-go-lucky sailors go for.

Others in the cast include John Gallaudet, Ward Bond, Francis MacDonald and Stanley Andrews.

Without Mary Boland playing opposite him for the first time in a long while, Charles Ruggles and his new leading lady, Alice Brady, furnish a sprightly brand of comedy in "Mind Your Own Business." It is the story of a woman who takes her husband's career in her own hands and makes him the most famous man in town, but not without a mess of trouble that almost lands Charlie in the madhouse, doghouse and poorhouse.

In the cast with this pair are Lyle Talbot, Jack La Rue, Benny Baker, Frankie Darro and others.

As added features, a newsreel and the Academy award cartoon, "Country Cousin," will be shown.

Crosby, Burns And Rave Due in New Comedy Soon

Bing Crosby, Martha Raye and Bob Burns, the trio who made "Rhythm on the Range," one of last year's outstanding comedies, are together again in "Waikiki Wedding," a gay comedy of love and music that Manager Les Fournier has booked for an early showing at the Broadway theater.

Shirley Ross carries the feminine romantic lead in the new comedy. The cast also includes George Barbier, Lee Erickson, Miss Rei, the Tahitian dancer who was the sensation of the Ziegfeld Follies recently, and George Regas.

"Waikiki Wedding" is the story of a press agent whose job is to keep Miss Regas thrilled with the music of Hawaii. Crosby does a thorough job of it, falling in love with her in the process and it is when he is trying to extricate himself from an entirely synthetic Hawaii that he has created that many of the comedy high spots are reached.

Miss Raye sings a number of solo swing songs, and Crosby contributes his share of the tuneful singing with several numbers.

Kidnap Hoaxer In Rest Home

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Robert M. Miller, Arizona Boy Scout executive, who disappeared for a week after a "spat" with a girl friend, was a patient in a rest home here.

Charles Miller a Los Angeles auditor, said his brother would remain in the home six or eight weeks to recover from a "bad condition mentally and physically."

The 23-year-old Arizonan, feared killed when his abandoned car was found, reappeared at El Paso, Texas, Wednesday and said he had been abducted near his Saford home. He later admitted the story was a fabrication.

Most of the action is placed aboard an express out of Paris. There are situations of acute peril and others of rich humor. Paul Lukas, Ketti Gallian, Skeets Gallagher and Mitchell Lewis head the supporting cast.

The Boyer-Arthur flicker, "History Is Made at Night," is a fast-paced romance with Boyer in a totally new type of role as Paul Dumond, dashing man about town and the most popular head writer on the Continent, while Jean Arthur is seen as a New York mannequin. THE KING AND CHORUS GIRL' AT BROADWAY THEATER SUNDAY

Boys' Classic at West Coast

Above are pictured three of the principal characters in the Booth Tarkington classic, "Penrod and Sam," which is now screening at the West coast theater. The other picture on the bill is "California Straight Ahead," with John Wayne.

'PENROD AND SAM' HEADS PROGRAM

There's fun and thrills for the whole family in the Booth Tarkington classic, "Penrod and Sam," now screening at the West Coast theater on a double feature bill with "California Straight Ahead."

Those two adventurous youngsters, Penrod and his pal, Sam have long been favorite in literature, but their exploits on the screen bring them in real life to the lovers of clean entertainment.

They are regular American small-town boys, heads of a "gang" about which they are very serious. But it isn't a "gang" in the evil sense of the word. As a matter of fact they are their own self styled "G-Men" and they right wrongs and capture a band of bank bandits in real G-men manner.

Penrod is played by Billy Mauch, youngster who won such approval for his portrayal of young Anthony in "Anthony Adverse." Immediately after that picture he won acclaim as the brave drummer boy in "White Angel," Kay Francis film based on the Crimean war.

Penrod's parents are the stage and screen favorites, Playwright-Actor Frank Craven and Spring Byington.

"California Straight Ahead" stars John Wayne, and has in the supporting cast such well known screen figures as Louise Latimer, Robert MacWade and Tully Marshall. The latest issue of the

'FLYING DOWN TO RIO' IS RETURNED

Returned by popular request of theater fans, the first picture in which Fred Astaire appeared with Ginger Rogers, entitled "Flying Down to Rio," is to show again at the State theater for three days beginning Sunday.

Dolores Del Rio and Gene Raymond are the stars of the film, a musical romance which introduced to movie fans the Brazilian Cariooca, as danced by Astaire and Miss Rogers.

The story concerns a millionaire playboy who has a "flying piano" in which he travels about the sky, writing new songs for his orchestra. He falls in love with Del Rio, her with his orchestra, to her Brazilian home. Here she is the daughter of a hotel man, who is about to lose his business because of gambling interests who want his hotel for a casino. He immediately stages a show on the wings of a score or more planes and raises the money to save the hotel and win the girl.

The second feature on the bill is "High Speed," the story of an automobile racing driver who becomes romantic. The star of the film is Buck Jones, who deserts his horse for the time being, and his leading lady is Loretta Sayres.

March of Time is the outstanding added attraction on the West Coast program.

Bride Wears Dress of Blue

A 75-year-old ring, the wedding ring of her grandmother, adorned the right hand of last night's bride, Miss Virginia Anthony, when she repeated the vows which united her in marriage with Chester G. Ewing, the ceremony taking place at 7:30 o'clock in Spurgeon Memorial church.

The bride, who is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Anthony of 1203 North Syracuse street, wore a lovely frock of blue chiffon, made with the waistline high in front and fastened with tiny buttons from the neckline to a point below the waist in back. The long sleeves were gathered at the wrist into narrow cuff bands.

Folds of the chiffon formed a V-shaped neckline, and the dress fell softly into a train at the back of the skirt. For her only piece of jewelry, besides the heirloom ring, the bride wore a two-strand pearl necklace, and for her "something borrowed" of the bridal verse she carried a chiffon handkerchief borrowed from Miss Janice Yelmar.

White sweet peas and gardenias were combined artistically into the bridal bouquet.

Attending her as maid of honor was Miss Virginia Adams of Villa Park, whose salmon pink chiffon dress set off her deep blonde coloring. Her frock was in a style similar to that of the bride, but with short sleeves. Her flowers were in pastel shades and arranged in a nosegay.

LITTLE FLOWER GIRL

Little Jean Eaton, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. Eaton of Anaheim, and a cousin of the bridegroom, was the only other attendant. Wearing a frock of pink and carrying an old-fashioned nosegay bouquet, Jean made a charming little flower girl as she preceded her new cousin up the aisle.

Charles D. Francis of Laguna Beach served Mr. Ewing as best man, and Robert Ewing, a brother of the bride, Willard Francis, Keith G. Stewart, and James Getty were the ushers, the latter performing the duties of head usher.

White stocks and candlelight and an ivy-covered arch created a beautiful setting in the church auditorium where more than 100 friends gathered to witness the ceremony performed by the Rev. Cecil M. Aker. The bride was given in marriage by her father, who escorted her up the aisle while Dell Hamilton, at the organ, played the Lohengrin wedding march.

Before the ceremony, Erma Baxter sang two wedding songs, "I Love You Truly" and "At Dawnings."

Arch Lights Up

At the close of the service, just as the minister was pronouncing the couple husband and wife, letters forming the name, "Ewing," were lighted at the top of the archway, giving a unique touch to the ending of the ceremony.

A reception for the two families, participants in the wedding, and a few close friends followed, the bride cutting her cake at a flower-decked table before departing for the honeymoon.

Her mother and the bridegroom's mother assisted the couple in receiving, the former wearing a green tailored print with white accessories and Mrs. Ewing wearing turquoise blue.

Before leaving on the trip, the bride changed to a white tailored gabardine suit with a Kelly green blouse and bag and white shoes and hat. The pair went south for their honeymoon, planning to be gone just over the week-end and then return to make their home in Santa Ana.

Both the bride and bridegroom are well known in the younger circles of this city, which has been their home for a number of years. The bride attended junior college here a short time, following graduation from high school in LaSalle, Texas, and she is a member of Wrycine Maegeen, business girls' club, in Santa Ana, serving as secretary on its board.

Mr. Ewing, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ewing of Corona, Calif., is a graduate of both high school and junior college in Santa Ana, and is now employed in Laguna Beach by the South Coast News.

MOTHERS' CLUB TO MEET IN EVENING

The Mothers' club went to Orange Thursday for a meeting at the home of Mrs. John Adams on West Culver street.

Mrs. Josh Wilson, who has recently been elected chairman of the club, was the leader of discussion, which centered about the topic, "How to Deal with Undesirable Habits."

After the 12:30 luncheon, a short business meeting was held and it was decided to change to evening meetings for the next few months, meeting next at the home of Mrs. John W. Fraley, on South Van Ness.

Members present Thursday were the Mesdames Wilson, Loren Spencer, William B. Humphrey, Ernest Hill, Virgil Kiser, Nylin Hurd, J. E. Sims, John Fraley, Guy T. Matic, Kenneth Lofton, and the hostess.

Second Party Of Series Given

Mrs. Theo Winbigler, who gave a lovely luncheon with her son's wife, Mrs. Ernest Winbigler, on Wednesday of this week, presided at a second luncheon yesterday in her home at 269 East Ninth street, entertaining another group of friends.

Using the same decorative effect as she had for her Wednesday party, Mrs. Winbigler centered her dining room with a mirror in which were reflected a white swan vase filled with spring flowers.

Each of the small tables was centered by a bisque figurine containing the same lovely blossoms.

Mrs. Claude Van Antwerp, Mrs. Elmer Burns, Mrs. Utt, and Mrs. Perry Lewis, sent flowers.

The reception room, rich in treasures from foreign lands, needed little in the way of extra decoration, so that most of the flowers were confined to the living and dining rooms where the guests found enjoyment through the afternoon hours.

Invited to this second party of the week were the Mesdames W. Maxwell Burke, Elmer Burns, A. J. Cruickshank, G. P. Campbell, S. Davis, C. V. Davis, H. T. Duckett, J. E. Gowen, Clarence Gustin, Ellis Diehl, Charles Kendall, Perry Lewis, D. A. Harwood, Clare Johnson, A. G. Flagg, Lorin Moore, Sam Nau, F. P. Nickey, Alvin Nowotny, C. O. Norton, C. E. Utz, Walter Prince, Parke Roper, A. W. Rutan, W. D. Ranney, Leonard G. Swales, V. V. Tubbs, Milo Tedstrom, R. G. Tuthill, F. W. Wieseler, Jessie White, Charles E. Walker, Rowland Yeagle, A. N. Zerman, George Perkins, George Wells, Milton McMurray, Thomas Ginn and R. C. Hoiles and Miss Beulah May.

Mrs. J. E. Leibig and Mrs. Ernest Winbigler assisted Mrs. Winbigler in hostess duties.

Prizes at the end of the afternoon on contract went to Mrs. Roper, Mrs. Tuthill, and Mrs. Nickey.

CARNIVAL NEXT WEEK AT EDISON SCHOOL

Edison school will be a scene of much gaiety next Friday evening when all of its families turn out for the carnival and all-school program.

Doors will open at 6 o'clock, and not dogs, pie and coffee will be sold at booths inside the halls.

Other booths will display "white elephants," pot holders and candy, and a fish pond will be an additional feature.

At 7:30 o'clock, the program, in which all the children of the school will participate, will be presented in the auditorium. Inspection of the new building, just recently completed, will be a part of the evening's enjoyment.

EDEN GARDEN STORY ON KVOE

Temptation Story From Genesis Topic of Sunday Play

Listeners to the Sunday Players tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock on KVOE, will journey back with them more than six thousand years to the Garden of Eden.

How the serpent tempted Eve to eat of the fruit of the forbidden tree, and how Eve, in turn, persuaded Adam to join her in her disobedience, bringing tragic consequences will form the theme of this well known story in Genesis.

Modulations From KVOE

AAA HEAD

By means of electrical transcription, Dr. H. R. Tolley, head of the Agricultural Adjustment administration, will speak to agriculturists in Orange County Monday afternoon at 12:15 about provisions of the 1937 agricultural conservation program. The broadcast was arranged by H. E. Wahlgren, farm advisor for Orange county, W. M. Corey, assistant farm advisor, will announce a series of meetings to be held in Orange county following the talk by Dr. Tolley.

ADULT EDUCATION

Ralph C. Smedley, founder of the Toastmasters clubs throughout the United States and Canada, and well known civic leader in Santa Ana, will be heard in the first of a new series of broadcasts from KVOE to be made in cooperation with the adult education department, Santa Ana city schools, Monday morning at 10:30. His topic will be "Slips of Speech."

'Harmony Boys' Heard Monday

"Howdy, folks! It's your friends Cliff and Ellis."

With this usual introduction of themselves, following their signature number, Cliff and Ellis, the Dr. Ross Harmony Boys, will greet their friends in their unseen audience Monday morning at 10:15 on KVOE. In full costume, with high-heeled boots, wide-brimmed sombreros, bright colored vests and all the trappings of regular cowboys—which by the way they are—this pair of roving troubadours present an interesting sight as well as interesting entertainment. They are heard every Monday morning on the air.

Their songs for Monday morning will include "Silver Haired Daddy of Mine," "The Lonely Hobo," "The House at the End of the Lane," "Zebra Dunn" and "The Last Round-Up."

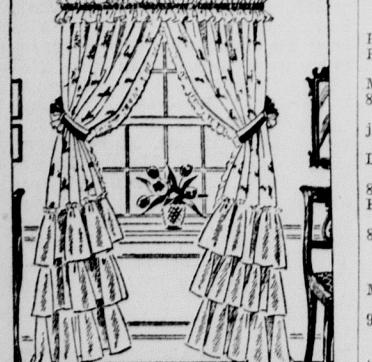

'Hall of Song' In KVOE Debut

With the noted tenor of concert, screen and radio, Tandy MacKenzie, appearing in the dual role of host and soloist, a new program, "The Hall of Song," will make its first appearance on KVOE and other stations of the Mutual-Don Lee Broadcasting system from 12:15 to 12:45 tomorrow afternoon.

Simple to Make These Colorful Curtains

As refreshing as a spring bouquet are these ruffled beauties. Make them easily of chintz, flowered in coral, ivory, peacock blue. Use plain ivory for the top ruffle on the skirt, coral for the middle one, peacock blue for the last.

To have full, perky ruffles, cut them 12 inches deep and twice as wide as the drapery width. Finish lower edges with tiny hems. Turn under the upper edges with tiny hems, gather them to adjust fullness evenly before you attach to the drapery.

Combine ivory and coral for valance and tie-backs.

Shirr the curtain on a rod like a glass curtain—fasten the gathers snug to a wide tape. If you use a glass curtain, fasten them so they form a dainty edge for the draperies.

Our 32-page booklet gives simple instructions and diagrams for glass curtains, formal draperies, valance boards, cornices. Color hints; pictures of smart new styles.

Send 10 cents for your copy of How to Make Curtains and Draperies to The Journal, Home Service, 117 East Fifth, Santa Ana, Calif. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

PROGRAM AT ABBEY BY GROUP

THORNE IN THE FLESH

By GLENN L. THORNE
"In the Beginning—God"

GROVES MUSICIANS ARE TO GIVE SACRED AND SECULAR NUMBERS

Offering an unusual and interesting program, the Groves Studio of Music, Ocean View, and the Gracia studio, Santa Ana, both sponsored by Mrs. George E. Groves, will present associate teachers and students in sacred and secular numbers at Meirose Abbey at 3 p. m. Sunday.

An accordion group composed of Betty Millis, Robert Greenwald, Billy Ward, James Van Meter, Viola Gaston and Calvin Groves will give two well known favorites, "Whispering Hope" and "Liebestraum" by Liszt.

Accordion solos, "Raymond Overture" and "Evening Star" (Wagner), will be given by Margaret Van Meter of Huntington Beach. Several groups of numbers will be presented by the Gracia trio, with Miss Edith Brush playing steel guitar, Mrs. Bernice Pamplin, mandolin; associate teachers and Mrs. Grace Groves, accordion. This group has appeared on numerous programs here as well as in Long Beach and vicinity.

Violin solos will be played by Miss Edith Brush, accompanied by Miss Helen Murray, associate teacher in piano, and Viola Gaston, who will present Rubinstein's "Melody in F" as an accordion solo.

Closing words and the prayer will be made by the Rev. George N. Greer of Anaheim, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Santa Ana.

Wesley Morgan, organist, will play two selections, "Toccata in D Minor" (Bach) and "Intermezzi" (Shelley).

This program will begin promptly at 3 o'clock and is open to the general public.

Mental Telepathy Is Explained

Professor Colbert, the psychologist, who claims that mental telepathy or what is commonly known as mind reading is merely an advance step in the principles of radio, demonstrates his unique claim at 129 Ellis place, Fullerton. His demonstration is known as clairvoyance. He says that he grasps thought vibrations from the minds of his many callers and interprets them, using them as an aid to concentration, a genuine gazing crystal.

So pronounced were his first few demonstrations that he remained in Los Angeles 10 years mystifying, amusing and entertaining.

Church to Launch Meeting Series

A series of inspirational meetings will be launched tomorrow evening at the Church of the Brethren, the Rev. Herman Landis, pastor, said today.

They will be conducted until April 16 by the Rev. Edgar Rothrock of Pomona, who is at present pastor of the Pomona Church of the Brethren and was formerly at Santa Ana. During the past year he has held evangelistic meetings in Virginia, Colorado, and several California churches.

Santa Barbara Buys Most Seals

RIVERSIDE, (AP)—The California Tuberculosis Association, in convention here, was informed Friday that Santa Barbara residents bought an average of 11 cents worth of Tuberculosis Christmas Seals last year, the highest in the state. Pasadena was second, 10.7 cents.

Judge Stump

Dear Judge: Did any of those fellows who say, "If I don't get a haircut I'll have to get a dog license or start carrying a violin," ever actually do either one?

L. P. M.

Terwilliger Blitz of Scappoose, Ore., started carrying a violin but his wife made him get a dog collar instead—he was already in the dog house from growling at her.

The President and Inflation

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S warning that the price of steel and copper is too high may be interpreted to mean that the chief executive is growing alarmed over the rate at which this nation is speeding toward inflation.

For the United States, from the looks of things, is flitting into that precarious condition like a moth into a flame.

The President was mild indeed when he merely mentioned the prices of steel and copper as rising too fast.

Every housewife can tell you that prices are rising too rapidly on meat, milk, bread, groceries, vegetables, clothes, rents and almost everything that the average family buys.

She can point out, furthermore, that the family's income—although it might have gone up some—is not keeping pace at all with the cost of living.

And this fact simply means that the actual purchasing power of the vast majority of people has been cut.

Or, if you want to say it another way, that inflation is beginning to hit the wage-earner and the salaried man.

If the malady progresses, you'll begin to find people losing confidence in banks and in the federal currency. Insurance policies, securities, savings accounts and fixed investments will start to depreciate.

There'll be a rush for real and tangible property—and everything else will go to pot.

The Rooseveltian remedy for this possible disaster—as near as we can understand from the press reports of yesterday's Washington conference—is to put the government's mighty buying power behind consumer goods instead of heavy goods.

Your tax money and the borrowings of the administration will be spent to construct drainage ditches and earthen dams instead of steel bridges and concrete dams.

The theory is that more money thus will go into wages than materials; and this shift probably will help some.

A better remedy for our inflationary trend, it seems to us, lies in stopping the enormous federal expenditures of borrowed money rather than in changing the method of spending this money.

Our government is going into debt faster than any of its most foolish citizens.

Every day it spends nearly $8,000,000 more than it takes in. At that rate, the yearly deficit is three billion dollars!

This huge sum is being raised by borrowing from the banks—thus tying the financial depositories of the people firmly into the federal government—come what may.

It can't keep up forever. We can't pass the buck from one generation to another until way down the line somebody hides it.

We are going to have to foot the bill ourselves. And we may foot it through inflation within a few years unless the administration is wise enough to balance the budget.

The way to balance it is through cutting government expenses to the bone.

Or if this doesn't do the trick, taxes should be raised until we can pay as we go.

Otherwise there may be unhappy days ahead for every class, rich and poor, in America.

President Roosevelt in his warning about steel and copper prices shows that he has seen the handwriting of inflation upon the wall of the U. S. treasury.

Let's hope that he drops the present policy of overspending and gets to work balancing the budget before it's too late.

Today's business opportunity: Selling weather vanes to senators and congressmen who are still undecided about the President's court plan.

And Nothing Is Done About It

THE NEW LONDON schoolhouse explosion claimed the lives of 450 unlucky children. If that had happened in Orange county, you can bet there would have been instant action.

But a county survey shows that at least 600 unhappy youngsters in county schools are suffering from malnutrition.

So far nothing has been done about it. Why?

They say Mussolini is sore because they gave that French girl a sanity test after reading her "My Benito" diary.

This Question of Gambling

IT'S about time for the public to quit this farcical dispute over whether it is right to have one or a dozen race tracks in Southern California, and whether it is all right to gamble at the track itself and a sin to wager through a bookie.

Gambling is gambling. Do we want it, or don't we? That is the question. If so, how, regulated or running wild?

Now if the supreme court will uphold the Wagner Labor act, Mr. Roosevelt might raise the wage limit to 170 years.

Sitting Down on Ford

WITH LABOR leaders crying "Ford is next," sit-downers have occupied the Kansas City plant of the world's largest privately owned automobile building concern.

Although Mr. Ford believes in high wages for a hard day's work, he is not the kind to bow down under pressure. Remember how he defied and whipped General Hugh Johnson and the Blue Eagle?

Reaction of the Ford Motor company to the strike may have a big effect on the fate of sit-down action in the United States.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

It is 4 a. m. with a slashing rain pelting its enchanting patter. Waterfall is nature's music. A slim, murmuring echo from the mysterious immensity. Waves from the vast Niagara of unseen power that we call the unknown. Had I millions I've always thought I'd like to indulge Henry L. Doherty's costly caprice. A mechanical bed, which by a press of a pillow-side button sends it sliding gently out under a tin roof when it came on to rain. That's a hunk of de luxe living with a hi-de-hi.

Rain washing the world for dawn's fling of gold and scarlet. A shower pops out thoughts as it does mushrooms. It gives his friends a skyey feeling to see the versatile Joe Cook find a deserved niche in radio. He has been rattling around too long without anchor. A clean-living, high-minded fellow.

Is anything more comforting in the night than the sturdy tick-tock of a gaunt hall clock? Ours is a real grandfather's clock. It once made the westward journey in a prairie schooner. Mightily scared but still in the ring.

If Job's "thing greatly feared" comes upon me it will be calamity in a revolving door. I've never become sufficiently citified to walk through them bravely. The approach is skittish, breathing a prayer: "Can I make it?" On my first merry-go-around twirl at the county fair I grew sicker than all get-out and was finally tossed from a golden horse. I've wondered if that hatched my dread of the revolving door.

There is a tousled block on Third avenue in the Forties known as Sailor's Sweetheart Row. It is where foreign seamen have rendezvous with girls, usually domestics also exiled from their native lands. They gather in the coffee houses, cider shops and small bars. The love-making is quite open and naively unashamed. It is a long time between meetings and they make the most of it. And why not? In cupid's name, why not?

In a sudden pique at 23, I once stalked out of a job that was entirely too weighty for my years. Then slunk to a y hotel room to lick my sores and covertly watch to see if the paper came out with the next edition. It not only did, but became lustier and snappier than ever. How I wanted that job back! Yet it taught me a lesson seldom learned until after 40. No matter what happens, the world goes on. All we can do is go in and pitch and remember that the rookie warming up in the bull pen will likely as not win the game. No man holds a job that cannot be successfully filled. It is always good to remember that.

It's the hour that night clubs are stacking table and chairs. And always there is the last drunk who wants to stick around awhile, send out for a fresh orchestra and carry on. The best he gets out of a night of riding high are the fuzzy-wuzzles and hiccups.

In my opinion the crack delineator of an elderly night club drunk was that by Charlie Winkler in "Show Boat." His sudden let go of "Hap-pe New Year" was sheer inspiration. His own interpolation, by the way. He seemed so tight it was difficult to believe he was only acting. Another true-to-life stage and screen souse—not forgetting Leon Errol and his gutta percha leg—is Hugh Herbert.

It's my window I see but two lighted rooms in the Waldorf towers cater-cornered. One wonders if they are occupied by guests—I had an atrocious city editor who scoured the term guests and insisted they were patrons unless visiting the management—just rounding in for the night or those about to depart. Or perhaps sudden calls for the doctor or just insomnia. Many insomnia only wangle their 40 winks when sheer exhaustion overcomes them at dawn. I recall a night in Antwerp when Morphew was fugitive. I walked up and down the hall restlessly. A floor clerk suggested I sprinkle talcum powder over my entire body. I did and slept soundly until noon, but it never worked.

So comes the dawn to a troll-ridden night. And peace that trembles away as slate-hued clouds grow pinkish and bring realization of just another day of murder, war, a world wet with tears. And pounding out another column.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

(Editor's Note: The Brass Ring, good for one free ride on The Washington Merry-Go-Round, is here bestowed on Walter P. Chrysler, chairman of the Chrysler Corporation, director of numerous other giant companies, and dominant figure in the automobile industry. The Brass Ring is given only to those who can ride on The Merry-Go-Round without losing their sense of humor.)

WASHINGTON.—Although he lives in a Park Avenue duplex apartment, commutes to Long Island in the summer in his two yachts "Zowie" and "Frolic III," and belongs to 19 swanky clubs scattered from Detroit to Palm Beach, Walter Percy Chrysler is a relatively good friend of labor.

He is no enthusiastic union advocate, but he is tolerant, was generous to laid-off workers during the depression, and pays satisfactory wages—75 cents an hour for men, 65 cents for women.

In a cut-throat industry where labor is battling with motor moguls, and motor moguls frequently battle among themselves, Chrysler has been held up by labor leaders as a relatively shining light.

During the rubber strike in Akron, later in the automobile glass strike, Chrysler was consulted privately by the mediators, used his influence to bring about a settlement. Since he was a big customer of both industries, his influence counted. Whether he was working for his own business or for labor is debatable.

Again, during the General Motors strike, the CIO played Chrysler off against GMC, publicly emphasized his labor attitude in the hope of throwing business his way, thereby hurting General Motors.

FLUKE STRIKE

Truth of the matter is that the Chrysler sit-down was a pure fluke. It was the last thing John L. Lewis and the CIO master-minds wanted.

The day before the General Motors strike, Chrysler announced a 10 per cent increase in wages and began negotiations for recognition of the union. These negotiations were handled by the shop committees rather than by the leaders, a more democratic procedure but contrary to usual custom.

When the committee hit an early snag, they reported back to the men, got excited, and rashly voted to strike, despite the wishes of CIO strategists.

Chrysler was furious. Other motor magnates, who had seen their competitor hauled as the friend of labor, burst into loud laughter.

SIMPLY TOWN BOY

The story of Walter Chrysler is the typical success yarn of the small town boy who makes good. Only in this case our hero climbed the ladder to fame and fortune further even than the heroes of the story-books.

DUTCH DESCENT

Chrysler likes to entertain men who once worked with him, and does not hesitate to mingle with the workers in his plants. On occasion, when he has seen a man bungling a job, he has taken over the machine and become so absorbed in it that he did not realize his expensive clothes were being ruined.

This mechanical genius, plus tremendous personal drive and excellent executive ability, is the secret of Chrysler's meteoric rise. He is one of only two big motor executives who really understand automobiles. Ford is the other.

Chrysler is proud of his rise.

He is proud that the son of a locomotive engineer has come up to head the third largest motor company in America. But he is proudest of all that Walter Chrysler, a descendant of Tuens Van Dolsen, first male child born in Nieuro, Amsterdam, has returned from the prairies of Kansas to build the second tallest building in the present teeming metropolis of New York.

What has been your most embarrassing moment? Making my first speech in high school.

HITS RELIEF SET-UP

To the Editor: Regarding to your item in Tuesday's paper by Fred Jayne in which he states that he is forced to replace the head of the women's sewing project with other clients, we would like to say that this equitable solution has not impressed itself upon his brain long before this. Any fair-minded person knows that the primary purpose of the whole program is relief and how the powers that be can continue to favor non-relief parasites with the jobs in the higher brackets, renumeratively speaking, is more than the average citizen, and especially those on relief, can figure out.

We would like you to ask Mr. Jayne, through your columns, how he can reconcile his two distinctly different attitudes namely, that of letting Mrs. Olsen go because she is non-relief and that of keeping Mr. Russick as head of the recreation program when his wife has and always did have a good job with the Santa Ana police department.

Also how he can keep Miss Josephine Derigo on the payroll at $135 per month when she is a single person of 24 years and has absolutely no dependents.

These two cases are only a drop in the bucket compared to what I could cite you and this condition has just about reached the unbearable point as far as the citizenry of Orange county is concerned, and especially the balance of the people on relief.

It is more than probable that some of the starving children in the schools of Santa Ana come from homes of relief people who are being exploited at this very moment, as this filling of positions in this relief program by non-relief people amounts to nothing more or less than exploitation of the relief by the non-relief.

How long are the honest, red-blooded citizens of Orange county going to stand for such goings on? I can not answer that question but if anybody was to ask me how long are the rest of the relief workers going to stand for such tommy rot I would say not very long. HARRY MAY 935 North Palm St.

SAN DIEGO.—The police quelled a riot on Fourth street by a vigorous use of clubs last night. The trouble came when a group of Industrial Workers of the World attacked Patrolman Langford. Several sailors came to his rescue, but he was terribly beaten before they could tear his assailants away from him.

Work has commenced on a brick building 25 by 100 feet at the corner of Bush and Fifth streets by C. P. Remberg. The building will be occupied by the Opera House Paint store. The structure will cost about $4000. Work has also been commenced on an office building for Dr. Wehrly on North Main street,
